9. The first evaluation of the applications will be done by the OSC's internal Weston Youth Innovation Award selection committee. This committee will consist of OSC staff. The selection committee will use the above-mentioned JUDGING CRITERIA to create a short-list of submissions to be forwarded to an external jury ("final review panel"). References provided by the short-listed candidates will be contacted in March and April of 2021.
10. The final evaluation will be done by the judges of the final review panel. Judges are appointed annually. The final review panel will select and rank a maximum of five of the short-listed submissions to receive prizes under the Award. The judges will base their choice of the Award recipients on the above-mentioned JUDGING CRITERIA. The animation will be displayed at the OSC for up to one year and be viewed by the OSC's over one-million annual visitors. This is a voluntary opportunity, which may be refused, and the winner will not be remunerated for his/her contributions, nor will any employer-employee or other contractual relationship be created. The winner has the choice of working with the project team on-site at the OSC, or virtually, via electronic communications. The OSC will not provide funding for travel or accommodation. Timing, duration and nature of the work to be determined by the OSC. The OSC shall remain the sole owner of all right, title, and interest in the completed animation, including, but not limited to, any and all rights in copyright, patent, trade secret, trade mark, industrial design and all other intellectual property rights. - f. All recipients of prizes under the Award (including each group member in the event of a group submission) agree to make themselves available for media interviews and by accepting a prize under the Award, consent to the use of their respective image and related visual/sound recordings, without the expectation of further remuneration. Prizes under the Award will be presented to the First Place Candidate and Second Place Candidate at an event hosted by the OSC. Where necessary and only if possible dependent on health and safety travel restrictions, transportation (in economy class) and overnight accommodations (1 night at a hotel arranged by the OSC) for each of the First Place Candidate and Second Place Candidate and a legal guardian for each, if required, will be provided by the OSC up to a maximum cost of $3,000 per candidate. In the event of a group submission being chosen as the First Place Candidate or Second Place Candidate, all members of the group will be invited using the email address provided on their respective consent forms to attend the event. However, the OSC will only cover the travel and accommodation costs of the group's primary contact as identified on the entry form, and his or her legal guardian, if required. Prizes must be accepted as described in these rules and cannot be transferred to another person or substituted for another prize. Any substitution of a prize, in whole or in part, is at the sole discretion of the OSC.
